Petrus Advisers and J&T Finance Group SE reached an agreement on the sale of Moneta Money Bank shares

Petrus Advisers, the largest independent shareholder of Moneta Money Bank a.s. ("Moneta"), have today entered into a structured agreement with J&T Finance Group ("J&T") on the sale of shares of Moneta at undisclosed terms.

"After receiving several unsolicited offers, we have found J&T to be the most suitable new reference shareholder for the bank and its strategy. We continue to believe in the stand-alone strategy of Moneta under its current leadership and plan to retain a minority ownership in the future", stated Klaus Umek, Managing Partner, and comments further: "We have significantly increased our stake to almost 10 % at the peak over the past 2 years and are happy to support the strategy of Moneta with a smaller stake going forward. We are very profitably out but certainly not gone".

Investment Director of J&T Finance Group, Adam Tomis commented: "The agreement with Petrus represents an interesting opportunity to invest into a strategic stake in the largest independent bank on the Czech market and fits well into our Czechoslovak story. We expect that J&T ARCH INVESTMENTS fund shall be the ultimate investor into the stake. We will disclose more details in the coming days."
